"The idea of the photo shoot was amazing to me, however when the day arrived I had to admit to being very nervous. I was made up and had my hair done which I was very grateful of. During the first shots I was very ill at ease even though Robert was brilliant and tried his best to make me feel comfortable. This probably had more to do with the outfit I had chosen than anything else.

As the shoot went on and I progressed to more provocative outfits, I really got into the shoot. With Robert's encouragement and suggestions I found myself getting more and more comfortable with everything as the photos proved. I even asked if my hair could be slightly wilder and my make up more intense to reflect this change in my attitude as the shoot went on.

Robert was superb in making me feel special and therefore I was able to pose as he and I wanted. I was able to pose in several positions that ultimately showed me off to my best thanks to Robert's skills.

The results were amazing and I couldn't quite believe that the photos were of me. Even now as I stare at the photos on our walls, I can't quite believe that they are of me. Robert your photographic skills are fantastic and you made me feel so special and so at ease. The results are proof in themselves.

Thank you so much. It is an experience I will treasure for always and hope to have another."

"L and I would just like to thank you again for a wonderful wonderful day. Your hospitality and efforts made our day very special and we hope you both enjoyed it as much as us. There are still some pics we'd love to do and some that may be a bit more adventurous.

We look forward eagerly to seeing the photos you choose as ones to work on. Although it's going to kill us to wait after seeing them on the big screen... well here's to working with you again."

"The whole photoshoot experience has been great from beginning to end. I felt really comfortable and positively spoilt. It might be a girl thing but I really enjoyed going through the outfits and the toys, deciding what to wear and how to shoot it. When it came to the actual shoot I really felt like a star for those few hours, having someone check tiny details, move my hair, re-do my make up and so on. The time just flew by and when I look back or look at the prints I remember feeling sexy, glamorous and above all free to express how I wanted to look. What amazes me most is how the prints capture a me that obviously isn't the everyday me but somehow is exactly me. Not sure that makes sense but I hope you understand what I mean.

The time taken over everything and the way the final proofs have come out was and is fantastic. We looked at them for ages before being able to choose the final ones to have as prints and could have chosen many others. The final prints are beautifully finished and very professionally presented. If anyone is looking for an experience that will make them feel sexy, is different from other photo sessions, allows them to see them selves in a whole new light and makes them feel simply a star for the day whilst always remaining comfortable and in control - I would not hesitate to recommend that they have you take their pictures. The prints are above my bed and each time I look at them I feel as good as I did the day they were taken."

"My photo session with Robert was just one of those really great, special experiences, which you know you'll never forget and which you couldn't replicate either.

To be right at the centre of a skilled photographer's attention is brilliant in itself. But when that person is also able to encourage you to express the part of yourself which feels confident and glamorous, you really do have a day to remember. It's like saying: "can you see the real me?" and for once getting an answer.

When Robert first played back the rough images from the shoot, I realised he'd captured something I'd never actually seen before, though I guess others have. The finished pictures are a treasure. Every woman should have a set, free on the National Health. The last half of that sentence is a joke. Robert's work is great value for money."

"Thank you so much for yesterday's photo shoot. I completely enjoyed pretty much everything about the whole day.

You are a real pleasure to work with. I was completely comfortable (emotionally if not 100% physically at times) and very happy all day. I loved being in front of the lens, being the centre of attention and even enjoyed the challenge of holding positions which were a bit of a strain (ah the joys of a hot bath... mmm)

Thank you for checking in with me so regularly all the same. It's particularly reassuring that you do that when you haven't seen my face for a while.

I was surprised quite how much I enjoyed it all. I think that was made easier because we'd talked it through and I knew I could completely trust you. It's not that I thought there'd be bad bits of the experience just it was more intensely good than I'd hoped and in a very nice way.

Thank you again for everything, please feel free to use anything I've said about your work in this mail in your publicity if you feel it will be of use. I would be very happy to have my experience help reassure others how good theirs could be."

"Robert, many thanks for sending these so soon, all I have been able to do today is think about yesterday, it really has to rank as one of the most amazing and exciting days of my life. I've looked at the pics, and they truly have exceeded my wildest expectations, they are simply amazing, I am struggling to come to terms with the fact that its actually me in the pictures, however I do know that I did not dream what happened..... it did happen and it was me, however I can't even begin to take any credit for the way they have turned out... its really all down to you... in that you managed to achieve what I had asked for... which was to be photographed in a way that would evoke a reaction, and show me in a way that I know existed within me. You did both..... to an extreme.

The only trouble is how will I ever top this??? I see no way of ever even getting equal let alone exceeding what you have done for me. I will cherish these pictures for many years to come I am sure. I apologise if I sound a bit hyperactive, my heart is still racing from seeing the pics just now...!!! sorry!!! I will calm down sometime in the next week! It was a fantastic day on many levels, after I had relaxed, I was in my own little world, and I think that as the shoot progressed this is represented in the way that the pictures have turned out!! Please give Caroline a huge hug from me, she's a lovely lady."

"Finding very easy to park at the venue, I was greeted at the door by a lovely looking guy with a warm temperament which straight away put me at ease... all too often it's easy to get caught up in the excitement which leads you to bursting in the door with a huge "Hello" and forgetting that you need to keep yourself "unsweaty" for your shoot!

Expecting to meet a pretentious arty type, I was surprised to find that this guy is totally chilled out and his warm welcome was appreciated. I was guided to the changing area to plot up, finish my makeup and leave my stuff. Around the venue, there are various canvasses (his faves) on the walls displaying his adorable work. On the table in front of me there was a couple of portfolios of his work. Sifting through, I could tell that this work is Robert's life.

I was made a coffee and introduced to Makeup assistance lady Caroline who is also Robert's partner. A very calm and chilled lady, who was only too happy to help with the finishing touches of my makeup.. We all sat down and discussed outfits, a hanging rail was provided and we discussed how the shoot was going to go..

Not for everyone, but I decided to do the glamour side first because you get lines and elastic marks when wearing everything.. so I kind of went backwards, normally I wouldn't.. but after reading Robert's notes in full and meeting him, I felt so comfortable in his presence.

During the shoot, Robert got me into some strange kind of stretching positions and promised that the end result, as wierd as I felt would be spectacular! The lights were hot and I felt really fantastic. Caroline was constantly on the look out for any imperfections and paid attention closely to the pictures and made alterations to my hair and clothes regularly. I felt really special, pampered and part of something rather excellent.

The shoot seemed to go so quickly and I enjoyed myself thoroughly!

After getting dressed and sorting myself out to leave, Robert informed me that my pictures were up on a screen waiting to be viewed! Wow.. looking at them straight afterwards was really strange.. I looked at myself and could not believe it was me.. It was an emotional moment and the pictures looked amazing.

I got home later that day and I have to say, I slept well that night. Outstanding stuff. I couldn't wait to see the end result on what I had already deemed as perfect."
